4-H PRE-ENTRY INFORMATION

PRE-FAIR CHECKLIST:

☐ Submit 4-H pre-entries using FairEntry

☐ Sign up to visit businesses and invite them to the fair auctions

☐ Visit your businesses- deliver flyers

4-H Families,

Fair pre-entry time is here! We will be using the FairEntry program to collect and record all of our fair time data. Your family will be able to submit your pre-entries directly into our FairEntry program using a computer, tablet or phone rather than having to come to the Extension Office to make your entries!

A few notes about FairEntry pre-entries:

1. FairEntry is integrated with 4HOnline (the program used for 4-H enrollment). All of your member information is already synced with FairEntry. You will log into FairEntry using your 4HOnline account information. (If you don't remember your password, you can reset it on the log in page of 4HOnline.)
2. There will be a question asking you for the best mobile number to reach your family at during fair week. We may use a text notification system to notify you of deadlines, events, etc. during the week.
3. It is always better to over-enter in projects than under enter. For example, if you think there is a possibility that you will bring six photos for photography judging, but you're not sure, go ahead and enter for all six. If you decide to only bring three photos we can easily discard the extra entry cards.
4. Some divisions have entry limits. These limits are listed in the fair book but FairEntry will give you an error message if you try to enter more projects than allowed in that division.
5. Project enrollment in 4HOnline is required in order to enter in some areas in FairEntry. For example, if you were not entered in the photography project on 4HOnline by May 1st, you will not be able to enter 4-H photos in the fair this year. You can, however, enter in open class.
6. Livestock ear tag numbers will need to be entered when submitting livestock entries.
7. All projects that you would like to enter in the 4-H division of the fair MUST be pre-entered in FairEntry. Open Class entries will be made the day of judging at the fair.
